Deaths

Betty Stark passed away on Dec. 9th, we extend our sympathy to her husband, Gunther, children, Mike & Erika, and sister Regina Albers

May her soul and the souls of all the faithful departed rest in peace

Do you have questions about your ancestors?

German Blood?

- Who was Joseph? Why is it Josef in some records?
- How does one use the Internet to research one's ancestors?
- Who can read the old German Script?
- How do I locate the church where my grandparents were baptized?
- Who can translate these records to English?
- Can Earth Google locate my ancestor's village?

Are you interested in forming a genealogy group at Kolping? Meet at 7:00 p.m. on Monday, January 18, 2016 to consider forming such a group and discussing how you can help in many ways to search records and trace your German roots. Just about an hour will do this first time.

Topics:

- Shall we organize meetings, monthly, quarterly, when?
- Guests Speakers?
- Library research?
- Sharing your resources?
- Computing and wireless connections
- Civil records
- Scanning photos and Photoshop?
- Church records
- What is a primary source
- Travel
- Sharing photos?
- Copier?

Bring a pen & paper and be prepared to raise your hand to volunteer to share your experiences with others.

May her soul and the souls of all the faithful departed, rest in peace.

Kolping History Book

We hope that everyone had a wonderful Christmas and a rousing New Year! We also hope that everyone who bought or received the Kolping history book have had time to look through it and appreciate all of the blood, sweat and tears that all of those who have gone before us have put into the organization to make it what it is today. Many people gave the book as a Christmas present, which was a great idea. In fact, Elisabeth Ricke had asked us in April at the 90th Anniversary Celebration whether the books would be finished in time for Christmas, and that was what spurred us on to get the book finished and delivered by November.

We'd like to thank everyone who sent us cards and E-mails, as well as those who told us in person, how much they enjoyed and appreciated the book. It warms our hearts to hear these words, and has made the long hours of work all worthwhile. We have sold 44 additional books after the initial delivery, and since the Society has ordered extra copies, there are still a little over 100 copies that remain. They are available at the $35.00 price per copy, so please contact us if you are interested.

Thanks again for everyone's support on this project. We couldn't have done this without all of you!
